CAUSE OF BLAST IN WILKES-BARRE MINE IN DISPUTE

Employees Blame Sagging Trolley Wire For Deaths of 83 Persons.

OFFICIAL VIEW DIFFERENT

Belief is Expressed by Company Men That Steel Bar Carried by an Employee Came in Contact With Wire, Causing Short Circuit and Explosion.

By Associated Press.

WILKES-BARRE, June 6.—State and local authorities were today conducting investigations into the explosion in a tunnel of the Delaware & Hudson Coal company that yesterday cost the lives of 83 men and the injury of 50 others. A large number of the injured men were seriously burned and it is feared many of them cannot recover.

There was a difference of opinion as to the exact cause of the accident which occurred while the men were on their way to work in a train of 14 mine cars drawn by an electric motor. In the middle of the train were two cars containing seven kegs of black powder. According to survivors the overhead trolley wire sagged when the train had penetrated the tunnel about 200 feet and touched a steel powder keg, forming a short circuit and setting off the powder.

Officials of the company, after an investigation, expressed the opinion that a steel bar or drill carried by one of the men came in contact with the wire, forming the short circuit, which caused the powder to explode.

WEST PENN OFFICIALS IN REGION TO STUDY NEED OF REVISION OF FARE ZONES

NEGRO'S STRAY SHOTS STRIKE ATTACHES OF WEST SIDE CARNIVAL

One Tears Way Into Woman's Hip, Other Grazes Chest of Man, Both in Lunch Tent; Gunman Escapes.

Two persons connected with the World at Home shows, the firemen's carnival, on the West Side, were struck by bullets fired by a negro at 12:30 o'clock this morning in Seventh street, West Side, near the Columbia hotel, during an altercation the black had with another of his race. The two carnival attaches were inside the lunch counter tent at the lower end of the carnival grounds, the place having been closed for the night. One of the bullets struck Mrs. Gettman, wife of the proprietor of the stand, embedding itself in the right hip, from which it was removed by Drs. J. L. Cochran and S. C. Truby. The other grazed the chest of a man employed at the stand. At the time Mrs. Gettman was engaged in counting the money at the cash register and the man was eating.

Both negroes escaped. After firing the two shots, neither of which hit the mark intended, the negro with the gun raced down the alley toward the Pennsylvania railroad, with Patrolman V. Bert Ritchie in pursuit. Ritchie fired at him but he got away. The other negro fled up the alley, in the opposite direction, and also escaped. The officers arrested William Enos, colored, as a witness.

UNFAIRNESS CHARGED

Its first formal complaint in the government's effort to eliminate misrepresentations and unfair practices in the interstate sale of stocks and securities was issued by the Federal Trade Commission today against the Pan Motor company, St. Cloud, Minn., and its president, Samuel C. Pandolfe.

The complaint states the commission has reason to believe the concern, which the commission alleges, had taken in $4,723,811.69 from the sale of stock from its incorporation in January, 1917, to February 28, 1919, and its president, have, with the effect of deceiving the public—circulated throughout the country false, misleading and unfair advertisements, statements and the like concerning the assets, resources, progress, business, good will and financial standing of the company; and have suppressed and concealed from the public facts relating to the plan of organization and the financial standing and condition of the company.

Pittsburg Men Join With Local Heads in Tour of Lines in Special Car.

HIGBEE JOINS THE PARTY

Purpose is to Get "First Hand" Information as to Justice and Injustice of the System Put into Effect Last January 27 and Bitterly Protested.

West Penn Railways company heads, accompanied by representatives from Connellsville and Uniontown, are going over this district today in a special car studying fare zones and disputes arising from the rate increase inaugurated by the company on January 27. They left here this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Connellsville was represented today by Attorney E. C. Higbee, who conducted the legal end of the protest filed with the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission on the increase. Reginald Palmer of Uniontown is the representative of that end of the district. Mayor John Duggan, who had been active in the fight against the increased rates, was not with officials on the tour, he being in the Mercy hospital at Pittsburgh for treatment.

The West Penn officials were William Fish, vice president, Pittsburgh; H. L. Mitchell, general manager, Pittsburgh; Daniel Durie, general superintendent, and E. R. Kooser, assistant general superintendent.

The visit of the officials here is the follow-up of a meeting held in Pittsburgh some time ago between the company and the protestants when an effort was made to "iron out" the differences without again going before the Public Service Commission which would have entailed much expense.

The fight is not against the increased rates as a whole but has been boiled down to several specific zones. It is to straighten out these zone differences that the tour over the lines was made today.

MOTORCYCLIST CONVICTED OF RECKLESSNESS

Jury, However, Acquits Man in Smash at Trotter of Operating Car While Intoxicated.

Guiltily of assault and battery and reckless driving but not guilty of being intoxicated at the time, was the verdict returned in Uniontown this morning in the case of Michael Donavich who was charged with running down H. W. Giles at Trotter with a motorcycle.

Universal use of the automobile with the resultant legislation to protect the interests of the public has imposed a very grave duty upon the courts in administering those laws. Judge E. H. Reppert, asserted in charging the jury yesterday afternoon in the automobile case wherein Michael Donavich is accused by H. W. Giles of Trotter of operating a motorcycle while intoxicated, Judge Reppert's remarks were given emphasis by the number of automobile cases tried already during the June term of court. All three court rooms the entire week has been occupied in trying automobile cases. To the virtual exclusion of all other cases.

Testimony in the Trotter case required the entire day before Judge Reppert, having been commenced Wednesday afternoon. Donavich, who was accused of operating his motorcycle while intoxicated and to have run down Giles inflicting serious injuries, contended that he was not intoxicated and that he was unable to control the machine because of the slippery condition of the road and the abrupt curve at the point where the accident occurred.

The story of Mary Striker of Republic that she arrested George Mikula and forced him to march to a justice's office after she caught him robbing her grandfather failed to convince the jury which returned a verdict of not guilty.

Cross suits growing out of a fight in Stewart township were taken up before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen late yesterday afternoon. In one case, Earl Harbaugh accuses Floyd Shipley and Harry Shipley with assault and battery and in the cross case the Shipley boys charge Harbaugh with pointing firearms.

A PALPITATING HEART FILLED HIM WITH ALARM

But This and Charles Myers' Other Ills Surrendered to Nerv-Worth.

Among the "other ills" was rheumatism. Even the pains from that had to go. Said Mr. Myers to Uniontown's Nerv-Worth druggist a few days ago. Wade H. Gorton:—For five years I have been very nervous and all run down. Stomach and digestion in very bad condition. Gas formed in my stomach and pressed against my heart and caused it to palpitate and intermit. This greatly alarmed me and I was uneasy as to the result. Had severe headaches and rheumatism. I tried all kinds of so-called remedies but got no relief whatever. I saw Nerv-Worth statements in the papers from persons I knew and who had been greatly benefited and I purchased one bottle of Nerv-Worth and took it as directed and am glad to say that all the ailments mentioned have gone and I feel like a new man and with all my normal strength and vigor. Sleep good, stomach and digestion fine. Good appetite and no more pains. Nerv-Worth worked wonders for me.

BALL LEAGUE FORMED

Teams of B. & O. Employees Will Play Two Games a Week. The members of the Baltimore and Ohio Y. M. C. A. who are interested in baseball met last night in the auditorium of the "Y" and organized a league which will be composed of four teams, playing twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays. One team will consist of players gathered from the men at the Baltimore & Ohio shops, another from the clerks in the Baltimore & Ohio offices here and another is being organized by the employees of the West Penn. The fourth team, which will undoubtedly consist of city men, has not yet been organized as no one has volunteered to start the organization. H. L. Cordrey, Baltimore & Ohio accountant, was elected president of the league.

A game was played last night by a Baltimore & Ohio team captained by "Chip" Francis and a team made up of members of the Knights of Columbus, in which the Baltimore & Ohio team came off the easy victors. The final score stood 12 to 0 in favor of the railroaders, what is generally known as a "whitewash." William Addis, who pitched for the winners, allowed only one hit. The features of the game was a three-base hit by "Chip" Francis with the bases full.

Engagement of Local Girl to Don Reed Baker of Tampa, Fla., is Announced at Party Given by Mother of Bride-elect; Mrs. Rice Injured.

SCOTSDALE, June 6.—Mrs. Margaret Vallance, aged 62 years, died at the St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, Wednesday, June 4. The body was brought yesterday to the Park avenue home of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Barrell, where funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock on Saturday, in charge of Rev. Kanaga, pastor of the Episcopal church of which she was a member. Interment will follow in the Scottdale cemetery, both funeral and interment being private. Engagement announced.—Mrs. L. C. Kesler entertained about 35 girls at her Spring street home last evening, when the engagement of her daughter, Mary Laverne Kesler, to Don Reed Baker of Tampa, Fla., was announced. The announcement was made with two cards, that of Miss Kesler and Mr. Baker, tied together with red, white, and blue ribbon, this because Mr. Baker has just returned from overseas, where he spent almost two years with the 19th Railway Engineers. The marriage will be an event of June. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Paul Baker, Mrs. Homer Baker and Mrs. Margaret Topper of Youngwood and Mrs. James König and Miss Mary Weinman of Greensburg.

Discharged men may have them recorded by leaving them with the war service secretary at the Scottdale Y. M. C. A. There will be no charge for this service.

Seeing is Believing.—And seeing is buying. Money-saving June sales coats, suits and dresses. Because of our fixed policy, which does not permit of any garment being carried from one season to another, we have selected for absolute clearance every spring garment in stock. The price on every garment has been reduced to a point that we believe will insure its absolute disposal. Every garment is of this season's style—without any exception whatsoever—and though much of this merchandise has been but recently received, it is included, as it is too good to let to pass. Our entire stock of spring garments during this clearance sale. Sale begins Friday, June 6, and lasts six days only. Bendiner's Broadway Ladies' Store, as you get off the car, Scottdale—Adv.

THE WORKER HIS OWN GUARDIAN

The men who are devoting so much of their time and energy to promoting safety in mining, as well as the interested public generally, will feel great distress and even greater disappointment over the fatality at Wilkes-Barre which cost the lives of about 100 men. Having resulted from negligence and wilful violation of the mining laws and the well established rules of safety first, the occurrence tends to discourage those who have so insistently and persistently sought to impress upon all men engaged in the hazards of mining that it is always unsafe to take a chance, and still more unsafe to do those things which are expressly forbidden.

In the miner's occupation there are certain risks against which it is apparently impossible to be safeguarded at all times, but statistics reveal the sad fact that the greater number of accidents are of the preventable class. The Wilkes-Barre disaster is plainly of the latter class. Even if the mining law did not prohibit the transportation of large quantities of explosives on a "trip" carrying a large number of men, prudent regard for the safety of the men would alone prevent such a risk being taken. It was taken, and with the knowledge that it was a violation of law, and scores of men lost their lives as the result.

This accident cannot be regarded as proof of the failure of the safety first rules that have been evolved out of a long and costly experience. On the contrary it brings into prominent notice the fact that if these rules are disregarded fatal consequences are certain to sooner or later become the price that must be paid for neglect.

It also emphasizes the greatest of all difficulties safety workers have to overcome—that of making men as individuals realize the absolute importance and necessity of avoiding any and every risk that will imperil

the life or limb of themselves or their fellow workmen.

In all hazardous occupations there seems to be an inherent inclination or habit among workers to take chances. While there has been a very marked improvement in the direction of teaching men to overcome this attitude or habit of mind, occurrences like that under discussion remind us all too sternly that dangers continue to be invited instead of being guarded against. Experience, and the record of individual mines, demonstrate that answering loyalty to the country of their adoption; the spirit of their services to or for it is the thing by which their Americanism is to be judged.

The President having recommended the return of the mine system, the Senate committee having taken action looking to their immediate return, and the House committee having indicated concurrence, it would appear that

President General Harrison has no alternative but to feel it his duty to now return the actual operations to the companies, although he might have acquiesced in the universally expressed desire that he himself return to the quiet of private life.

Safety last instead of first, appears to have been the order in that Wilkes-

Barre mine where upwards of 100 men have paid the price of their own and some other person's neglect.

The Tough has assumed a new importance. It has become the state of travel for Navy dirigibles.

men's all in one week Conneltsville same talk he said: "We will live to certainly a good sound line of prophecy, and therefore it is strange that our

EARLY

It is important to screen your windows and doors early. The fly that flits the face, lights on food, leaves in it's wake disease and death. You cannot kill each fly but you can keep them out by proper screening. A mild winter causes numerous flies. One fly now makes a thousand later. The Union Supply Company has ample preparations to take care of all your screen wants—screen doors, screen windows, or any sort of wire screen you want. We also have a complete line of porch equipment, consisting of swings, easy chairs, Crex rugs. There has been a great demand for all this class of goods but we still have good stocks and can provide your wants.

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE SECURED AT MT. PLEASANT

Delay of Hours in Dispatch to and Deliver From South Removed.

COMPANY E BOYS ARE FETED

Returned Soldiers Are Guests at Party Given in Country by Misses Martha and Ruby Albright; Mrs. DeLong Guest at Mrs. Hitchman's Party.

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 6.—Following a conference Wednesday with E. W. Satterwhite, railway service man, Clark A. Quaker, acting postmaster, has secured a southern outlet for mails to take effect today. Never before did the local office have a southern outlet. Now a letter mailed here at 9 A. M. will reach Washington, D. C., at 10:55 the same night. The Philadelphia papers received heretofore at 4 P. M. will now come in at 11 A. M. This will give three more mails in and three more out each day. New York and Philadelphia mail will now be delivered the same day received and heretofore this could not be done. Better connections are being made east and west out of Greensburg as well as good connections east and west out of Connelville.

Most of the local mail has been held up in Pittsburgh as it was not dispatched out of Pittsburgh between the hours of 5 and 10 A. M. This will be done away now and it is thought by both Mr. Satterwhite and Mr. Quaker that Mount Pleasant will have as good mail service as any other town. Mail will now be dispatched at the following hours from the local office: 7:20 A. M. north, 9:20 A. M. north, 9:20 A. M. south, 2:20 P. M. north, 2:20 P. M. south, 5:30 P. M. north, 5:30 P. M. south and 7:05 P. M. north. Mail will be received at 7:20 A. M. north, 8:05 A. M. north, 8:05 A. M. south, 11:05 A. M. north, 11:05 A. M. south, 4:05 P. M. north and 4:05 P. M. south.

MINISTER THANKFUL

"I had stomach trouble for nearly 20 years, also constipation which filled my system with gas and fever. I could not do my work, and while I was down sick a lady from out of town sent me a bottle of Mag Rhu. Wonderful Remedy which proved truly wonderful. I believe it is the best medicine on earth. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestines, liver and stomach, and restores the system to normal. One dose will convince or money refunded. A. A. A PITTSBURGH MAN HAD SUFFERED FOR VERY MANY YEARS

J. E. Garver, No. 1711 Brighton Road, Tells How Plant Juice Helped Him.

Thousands of people have derived relief through the use of Plant Juice, which does its work thoroughly and quickly, as is attested by the testimony of J. E. Garver.

J. E. GARVER.

monials of well-known Pittsburgh people, who have been restored to health. One of the latest testimonials received which may be quoted is that of Mr. J. E. Garver, who resides at No. 1711 Brighton Road, North Side, Pittsburgh, an old resident who is well known for his integrity. He said: "I had suffered from stomach trouble for the past 15 or 20 years, most of which time it was in an ulcerated condition. My food fermented and formed gas; I had heartburn and at times suffered from severe pains in my back. I had tried a lot of different medicines, but none of them seemed to help me, until finally I began to take Plant Juice. I want to go on record that Plant Juice is all that you claim for it and more. My appetite has returned and the gas has entirely left my system, and I feel better all over. I am recommending Plant Juice to all my friends."

Plant Juice is sold in Connelville at Roy Hetzel's Drug Store.—Adv.

CHINATOWN POPULAR

Many Visiting Carnival Investigate Its Mysteries; Other Good Shows.

The underground Chinatown continues to be one of the leading attractions at the World at Home carnival of the New Haven Hose company on the West Side. Dr. F. Lamarr explains the work of the Chinatown in the native haunts, and "Chinatown Charlie" tells of the silent system invented by him and used by his men while working in the underworld. A pleasing feature of the exhibit is Miss Rose Bowman, a lady missionary worker, who sings songs of Chinatown.

All the shows presented by the World at Home show forms, week-end entertainment, the greater part of the show, marling two visits. The show of Bluff Bluey, the "Big Eight" show, is an attraction to the children. Bluey Bluey is a funny little fellow, claimed to be half-monkey, who surely acts and looks the part, many people going in the show never moving away from his pit.

O. K. Hagar's automobile and motorcycle races, with the two darling riders, Ollie and O. K. Hagar, the Wild West circus, the plantation show, the Superba show, with the three pretty girls, the Quaker City trial, the big ride, the merry-go-round, the whip and the ferris wheel, all are popular.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach ache and inability to eat food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach. Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. To stop or prevent this and to neutralize the acid and make it bland and harmless, a transparent, odorless, tasteless, non-toxic, and perfectly harmless preparation, known as Burroughs' Magnesia is a good and effective corrector and should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use. An antacid, such as Burroughs' Magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Burroughs' Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

OPPORTUNITY FOR HIGHER EDUCATION OF MINE WORKERS

Operating Companies to Provide Scholarships in Mining Engineering.

MINE BUREAU COOPERATES

With Carnegie Institute, State Department of Mines and Coal Mining Institute; W. H. Glasgow of Frick Coke Co. Member of Advisory Board.

Through an arrangement made by twenty coal mining, quarrying, and mine appliance companies in the Pittsburgh district 20 scholarships at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in advanced theoretical and practical mine engineering have been pledged as a means to stimulate the sons of mining men with a desire to secure a higher education.

A complete new course in mining engineering, having cognizance of local problems, is now in course of preparation by Captain Edward Steidle of the United States Bureau of Mines, who will have active direction of the new method at the institute. Affiliated with the United States Bureau of Mines and the Carnegie Institute in the new venture are the State Department of Mines, Coal Mining Institute, Coal Industry, Ellsworth Collieries company, Associated Insurance companies, R. C. Frick Coke company, Pittsburgh Coal company, Sullivan Machinery company, Jeffries Manufacturing company, Hecla Coal & Coke company, Harrison-Walker Refractories company, Mine Safety Appliance company, Pittsburgh Limestone company, Henderson Coal company, Carnegie Coal company, Jamieson Coal & Coke company, Union Collieries company, United Mine Workers of America.

It has long been noted that the sons of the practical miners seldom take up their fathers' calling, and thus are lost every year thousands of young men especially fitted to take places in the mining industry. A new school of workers has to be "broken in" on an average of every five years, with a consequent lapse of efficiency and production.

Therefore it is planned, to obviate this, to offer a scholarship a year from each colliery or mine, the pupil to be selected by the mine management from among the more promising sons of the workers themselves. But the 20 scholarships will not comprise the entire student body of the new course. It will be possible for any young man, passing a satisfactory entrance examination, to be admitted to the classes.

In addition to the facilities of the Institute, the Bureau of Mines has promised the use of the government laboratories and the experimental mines in this vicinity.

The following were selected as an advisory board for the new school of miners: W. A. Lane, general manager Ellsworth Collieries company; W. R. Calvery, general manager, Union Collieries company; Philip Murray, president United Mine Workers of America; John L. Pratt, state mine inspector; J. M. Armstrong, general manager, Pittsburgh Coal company; W. L. Afielder, general superintendent, Hecla Coal & Coke company; W. H. Glasgow, assistant general superintendent, R. C. Frick Coke company; C. E. Cowan, chief engineer Jamieson Coal & Coke company; Dr. D. A. Lyon, superintendent, United States Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh station, and Captain Edward Steidle.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book "Chemistry and Food-Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "The amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing. It is sold by the Connellsville Drug Co. in Connellsville and all good druggists.

CAUTION: While Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness, general ability, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Adv.

A CONFERENCE transcending in importance anything of the sort ever before attempted has concluded its labors at Cannes, France, where the groundwork for the world-wide movement of the Red Cross for the promotion of public health has been laid. Here are seen some of the experts who were brought together from all over the world to formulate the program. The building here pictured is the Cercle Nautique, or Naval Officers' Club, in which the sessions were held.

The chairman of the international committee which drew up the world health program was Henry P. Davison, who was chairman of the War Council that directed all the activities of the American Red Cross during the struggle with Germany. The other Americans seen in this group are: Doctor Lucas of the University of California Medical College and chief of the American Red Cross Children's Bureau in France; Miss Julia Stinson, formerly in charge of the American Red Cross Nursing Service in France and now chief nurse of the American Expeditionary Force; Major Ivy L. At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"A MAN AND HIS MONEY"—A Goldwyn production presenting Tom Moore, supported by an all star cast, is being shown today. The picture is as good natured as its leading character, a hard riding polo player, a hard drinking young rouser and an all around spendthrift, whose conversion is out of the ordinary. It depends neither upon the fine girl to whom he is engaged, nor upon his going dead broke before coming to his senses, but upon a moment of manly self-discipline. He undertakes his own reformation, but in the same cheerful manner shown when making a fool of himself. Mr. Moore fits his role to perfection; and Seena Owen responds quite as capably to that of a society girl of dignity and character. Harry Lathrop (Tom Moore) commits a crowning indiscretion in arousing at a time when he has attained engagement and is to escort his fiancée, Betty Dairymple. He quits his dissipated crowd under the influence of liquor and commits the unforgivable offense of appearing before his refined fiancée ridiculously drunk. She discards him forever. His adventures culminate in him obtaining a job cleaning the pet dogs of Betty's aunt, where that young lady chances to be visiting. The story has a happy ending. A selected comedy is also being shown.

THE SOISSON.

"THE WEB OF INTRIGUE"—A Metro production, starring Harold Lockwood, is an interesting feature today. The picture is interesting from the beginning to the end and is one that will please all members of the family. Mr. Lockwood is provided with one of the best roles of his screen career and is assisted by a cast of well known players. A selected comedy is also being shown. Monday and Tuesday Madame Petrova will be started in "The Panther Woman," a feature of Universal interest.

DOUGHBOYS' THREE DAYS OFF IN NEUWIED IS ONE RIOT OF JOY

Smiles of Six Jolly American Girls and Ice Cream and Cake Galore Give Homesick Soldiers New Spirit to Keep the "Wacht am Rhein"—Visit Points of Interest and Are Royally Entertained.

By WILBUR FORREST.

(On the New York Tribune.)
Neuwied, Germany.—In many ways the American soldier, forced to maintain a "Wacht am Rhein" here in Germany is to be envied by those who have hurried back through the French after months to home and beside the homegoers are possibly well pleased with their lot, but the "stay-boys" are beginning to come into their own.

The American army and the Y. M. C. A. have combined into a harmonious relationship here at Neuwied-on-the-Rhine, which gives full compensation to the soldier for his enforced foreign service. It is the Third Corps Recreation Center and is today operating full blast for the benefit of more than 80,000 of Uncle Sam's boys, comprising the third American army corps, commanded by Major General Hines.

Eleven hundred from the First, Second and Third divisions come on their prescribed villages and visit of the occupied area into Neuwied every three days to rest, recreation and see the sights of the Rhine. "The Third Corps Recreation Center, made possible by the folks at home through the Y. M. C. A." is the slogan you may read in Neuwied today. And the doughboys are beginning to appreciate it and talk about it.

American army engineers have built the largest Y. M. C. A. club and recreation hall in Europe—the home of the creating doughboy, in which he finds his worries about reveille nor sleeping. It is here that he first goes when he arrives from the area, and is told to make himself comfortable one or all of six comely American girls who have come from home to tend to the doughboy and his needs. The young officers notwithstanding. The doughboys are invited to make themselves "right at home" and they lose time in doing so.

How the Idea Works.

Follow Mr. John Doughboy through three-day leave in the Neuwied Recreation Center. He packs up his blanket, towels, toothbrush and safety razor and departs from the scene of his duties. He arrives in Neuwied by various routes—1,000 of him—and is greeted by a "home band" at the midway station. A guide conducts him to the big recreation hall and turns him loose among potted palms, and deep upholstered easy chairs, divans and "lounge" set tastefully in a great room lined on two sides by big red brick pillars, in which cherry log fires are burning. He is assigned a place on a double-deck bunk and he throws blankets aboard and returns to the room to loaf.

Perhaps he sits down at a table and takes a line, or two, to the folks back home. Then he meets a friend and plays a game of billiards or pool on an overhanging balcony at one end of the room. Or he just loafs around on easy chairs and sofas until lunch time. Then some one suggests that he roll down to "Uncle Sam's Hotel"—a place that used to be the "Hohenhausen" here. Here the Uncle Sam Y. M. C. A. combination serves a meal and his 1,000 companions that has never seen equalled in the B. F.

Crockery Suffers Sadly.
The "crockery," as the doughboys call it, is in reality an excellent grade German china, and as Sergeant J. Seidenfeldt, "commander in chief" Uncle Sam's hotel, explained, stacks at the hands of some scores of German waitresses run up to 1 cent a meal, or nearly 100 per cent a month. But it is Uncle Sam's party and the boys enjoy it.

Seidenfeldt was head waiter at a hotel in Cleveland when Uncle Sam drafted him. His home, however, Hartford, Conn., and he never missed the armistice would bring here to run "the biggest army hotel in Germany," where nearly 800 doughboys can "sit" simultaneously at single meal and 1,000 if necessary, in at two sittings for any meal the day.

From the hotel the recreating soldier returns back to the recreation hall, which now becomes his principal point of orientation. Here he chats with American girls who make him feel at ease and point out the afternoon's entertainment. There is "Uncle Sam's" "entertainment," a pretentious German play, with a good bill showing at two back and again at seven. There is a little theatre, a continuous series of both afternoon and evening shows when all this does not appeal there are athletic of almost every character on a nearby field. From 3:30 to 5:30 there is music and tea or chocolate and cakes in the recreation hall, from that time onward there are games inside or outside, played up with ice cream and cake.

Saloons Lack Popularity.
There are open saloons in Neuwied, but they are not barred from drinking. The saloons are open until 10 p. m. and are also here an ice cream, cake and candy factory running full blast for exclusive benefit of American soldiers. Neuwied's open saloons are not patronized much by American soldiers.unkenness has been practically nil, the conduct generally of the 80,000 is one of the greatest tributes to American youth and the wholesome influence of the young American women, have inspired with their surroundings, association and conversation and that wholesome "at" desire to see the periodical three-day leave that the American soldier in Neuwied memory that leaves nothing but clean thought in the minds of the boys. The second day of John Doughboy's three-day leave begins just after breakfast at "Uncle Sam's Hotel"—from 7:30 to 9 a. m.—with a steamboat excursion up the Rhine. It ends with a grand costume ball in the evening at the recreation hall. The river excursion, with plenty of food, music and refreshments aboard, begins with special attention first called through a megaphone to the village of Weissenthurm, just across the river, the point where the French General Hoche crossed the Rhine on April 18, 1797. Immediately behind Neuwied, as the steamboat takes the Rhine mid-channel, looms forth the Krupp gun works. Soon the island Urmitz, Worth, on which the Romans once camped during the period when bronze was first used by these ancients, appears. Next comes Engels, a Rhine village of 3,000 people, the home of a famous Prussian military school. Then Bendorf, a manufacturing city of 5,000 people, and soon the giant fortress of Ehrenbreitstein looms up around a bend in the river.

"The bally-hoo man explains that 'once upon a time,' the sheer rock cliffs, which rise abruptly from the water, supported a Roman fortress. As he remarks that the French captured Ehrenbreitstein in 1799, another doughboy remarks 'some John.' Looking across the river they see Coblenz. The boat 'passes up' the river through the Coblenz pontoon bridge to Oberlonsstein, scene of thirteenth century ruins, and glides below Stolzenfels castle at Capellen, built in 1252, destroyed by the French in 1838, rebuilt by King Frederick Wilhelm IV, and owned up to November 11, 1911, by the ex-kaiser. Again upstream is the very ancient and picturesque village of Rheims with well-preserved fortifications 700 years old. Braubach, a town first mentioned just 1197 years ago, and Marksburg castle, the most imposing castle on the Rhine peaks, are next.

Lorelei Rock Passed.
Past Dornbuchen, a village of legend and pilgrimage; Selzig, a small town, surrounded by a forest of cherry trees; Ehrenthal, of lead mine fame; Wellmich, with its famous Gothic church; St. Goar, a village of 1,600 inhabitants, containing a church built in 558 by Frankish kings, and eventually the famous Lorelei is reached, that imposing rock overhanging treacherous Rhine rapids, on which the beautiful woman of legend used to sit ensnared in a veil of mist, sometimes combined in her golden hair, and more often enticing foolhardy Rhine sailors onto the rocks as they drew near to hear the strains of her golden harp.

Passing many other points of interest, the doughboy is shown the little church at Clemenscapelle marking the spot where Kaiser Rudolf von Hapsburg beheaded 30 robber knights in 1282. And there is usually doughboy comment, "Some Kaiser." Finally, he passes the Mouse Tower, built on an island, and reaches Bingen-on-the-Rhine, that famous Roman town said to have been built by Drusus thirteen years before Christ. A trip beyond Bingen to Rhodesheim and the excursion boat turns its prow homeward, racing with the swift Rhine current back to Neuwied.

More Ice Cream and Cake.
There still remains time for Uncle Sam's theater and the movies before supper time at Uncle Sam's hotel, where ice cream and cake wind up the evening repast. Then back to the recreation hall for the big dance. Ice cream and cake comes again at 9:30 p. m.

The third and last day there are all the features of the first and second and a boat trip down the Rhine toward Cologne for those who care to go. Historical sightseeing is repeated, including the beautiful city of Bonn, seat of Germany's most famous university and once home of Beethoven. Then back up the river to entertainment, ice cream and cake, athletics, sports, games and recreation, winding up with the grand tug-of-war in Recreation hall between picked teams. Then more ice cream and cake and to bed, ready for duty again back somewhere in the Coblenz bridgehead.

Clean recreation has beaten the German open saloons in Neuwied, and in addition to that the ice cream, pie and cake factory, now producing 100 gallons of cream and 800 cakes of various kinds each day, keep up the double its present output. As one doughboy remarked at the end of his leave here today, "Some leave!"

DO NOT NEGLECT UNIVERSALS

Joints Wear Rapidly and Frequently Break if Grease is Lacking—Look After Them.

A dry universal wears rapidly and frequently seizes and breaks if it lacks grease. Do not neglect, therefore, the lubrication of your universal joints. True, it is usually a lot of trouble to grease them. They are under the car and just when you feel like doing the job no grease gun is handy. However, to neglect them is to court disaster. They should be lubricated about once a month.

IN FITTING NEW CARBURETOR

Important to See There is No Looseness to Cause Vibration—Broken Flange Results.

In fitting a new carburetor be sure that there is no looseness to cause vibration, because if there is a broken flange will be the inevitable result. If vibration is present a small iron bracket should be installed from a nut on the engine frame to the instrument to steady it, also taking the strain off the intake pipe.

A COAL SHORTAGE WARNING IS SENT OUT BY PRODUCERS

A Labor Shortage is Predicted as a Certainty of the Busy Season.

PRODUCTION FALLEN OFF

One-Fourth the Tonnage Necessary to Meet the Normal Fuel Needs; Necessary to Place Orders Early Otherwise Mines Can't Produce Enough.

A warning that America faces a possible coal shortage more serious than that of 18 months ago has been sounded by a special committee of the National Coal Association, headed by F. S. Peabody of Chicago. The committee pointed to the production decrease of 50,000,000 tons from January 1 to May 10 as compared with a year ago, declaring there are grave dangers of a labor shortage, and urged that consumers place their orders now and thus set the idle mines in full swing again.

"A situation alive with possibilities of the greatest consequences, confronts the people with respect to their coal supply for the coming fall and winter," says the statement. "The association regards the prospect with such misgiving that it would be remiss in its plain duty if it failed to call attention publicly to the facts."

"Ever since the armistice was signed, production of bituminous coal has fallen far below the tonnage necessary to maintain life in the country's normal needs as to be met. Official returns to the United States Geological Survey show that from January 1 to May 10 the output of all the mines in the country dropped 25 per cent below production during the corresponding period last year. The mines are now producing coal at the rate of 8,000,000 tons a week. They should be producing 11,000,000 tons if the people are to have enough coal."

"Unless the lost production is made up, at least in large part, domestic consumers will be unable to obtain sufficient fuel next winter, the transportation agencies will be crippled, public utilities generally will have to curtail their activities, industries will run on part time and all the distress due to the coal shortage of 1917-18 will be repeated perhaps even aggravated and intensified."

"It would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to make up the tonnage already lost if the mines were all to start working full time tomorrow. Already there is a shortage of labor in certain coal fields, in others there is every indication that there soon will be a labor shortage, and the industry generally faces the loss of 40,000 foreign-born employees who have made their plans to return to Europe as soon as they can get passage. Many already have gone back, and there will not be men to take their places, for immigration is restricted and the tide of transatlantic travel, as soon as peace is signed, will flow strongly to Europe. In addition, the industry faces the loss of thousands of men who are seeking and obtaining less hazardous work and at more regular working time."

"The entire cause is failure of the public to keep the mines going full time by placing its orders for coal. The mines are now working half-time and quarter-time."

"Stocks accumulated during the fall of last year have been almost depleted, and within a few months everybody will be trying to place orders. It would be a physical impossibility for the mines to produce sufficient coal in the short time then remaining before cold weather to meet the demand."

FEDERAL CONTROL OF COAL IN PEACE TIME IS RUMORED

As Plan to Be Proposed By President Wilson Upon His Return.

WILL MEET OPPOSITION

In Congress and in the Coal Trade as a Movement in the Direction of State Socialism; Report is Without Confirmation in Administration Circles.

Intense interest has been excited, says the Washington correspondent of the Coal Trade Journal, over the widely circulated report that the President would return from France with a proposal that coal, oil and gas be placed under federal control, to be "nationalized" to the extent that a system of permanent government control of these resources be established somewhat along the lines of the war-time Fuel Administration.

It is admitted by those who have given currency to this report that they have nothing official to proceed upon but it is evident that they regard the intimations as more or less authoritative. This is true particularly of those members of the House and Senate who naturally would deal directly with any legislation upon that subject which the President might recommend to Congress.

Whether or not it is true that the President has fixed upon a policy looking to federal supervision of the coal, oil and gas industries upon a peace-time basis, it is certain that some move will be made before many weeks pass for a closer relationship between the coal industry and the government. For some time this has been a matter of conference on the part of government officials and it has been more or less widely discussed by the more important factors in the fuel business.

So far, however, the only concrete proposal, in this connection, is that advanced a few weeks ago by Fuel Administrator Harry A. Garfield, who publicly recommended that a fuel director be created under one of the existing departments of the government; that a commission composed of coal operators and coal miners be named to confer with that director at all times, and that all the permanent records at the Fuel Administration, Federal Trade Commission and other agencies concerned in coal production be transferred to the office of this new official.

It was not proposed by Doctor Garfield that the Fuel Director have price-fixing power or authority to distribute the nation's fuel output on a zone or other pre-arranged basis, but it is easy to see that with a government official maintaining even the most casual supervision over a great industry like that of coal, it would be an easy thing, as time went by, to enlarge his powers of control. This was the case with the Interstate Commerce Commission. In the beginning that body had little actual direction of the railroads of the country but in the course of time it was given more and more authority until, at the beginning of the war, no railroad could make a rate on a load of sand between way-stations without the approval in advance of the commission.

As is well known the Fuel Administration no longer functions as a regulatory body. It maintains a shell of an organization, largely for statistical purposes and to assist in early-ordering and other popular campaigns, but the real power exercised by it during the course of the war is no longer employed. Price-fixing is no longer enforced. The elaborate program of distribution whereby certain producing sections were directed to supply certain consuming sections has been abandoned and all other regulations except those providing for wage scales have been withdrawn.

As outlined, the President's program for bringing the three basic industries under the control of the government is about as follows:

When the President reaches Washington he will have worked out in his mind a program for the nationalization of the coal, oil and gas resources, with a system of rationing, under the direct supervision of the federal government. The purpose of the reported plan would be to secure a more general distribution of these fundamental necessities in the industrial life of the country, to prevent the monopoly of them by powerful combinations of capital and to adjust both the prices of the products to the consumer and the wages of the men engaged in production upon an equitable basis.

Any recommendation along these lines, of course, will precipitate a bitter contest in Congress. It would be as well as a move toward state socialism and toward the further centralization of industrial power in the hands of the federal government. Moreover, it would be opposed on the ground that there is no necessity for such legislation.

So far as monopoly is concerned, the federal courts have full power under anti-trust laws to handle any combination proven to be in restraint of trade. The alleged anthracite combine has been cited as one of the reasons why the President would make his recommendation. The courts already have acted in that direction just as they have with regard to the oil trust, the pipelines and other combinations which the government Attacked. All efforts to confirm the reports of the President's purposes in this connection have been futile. He seems not to have communicated with any of his advisers in Washington upon the subject, although many of them have heard indirectly that he will have a more or less comprehensive program for dealing with coal, oil and gas, when he returns to Washington and takes up personally many of the problems of reconstruction which were omitted in his recent message to Congress.

DICE of DESTINY

By Jackson Gregory

CHAPTER XIII.

A Game of Dice.
"Now, Senor Torre, you shall have a gambler's choice."
The tall candles burned steadily in the massive candlesticks. The little yellow flames shined reflected in the polished woodwork of the walls. Senor de la Guerra sat in his favorite armchair at the great mahogany table, his white aristocratic hand tapping idly upon its glistening top. Stanway standing at his side, watched curiously both De la Guerra and the smiling Torre.

"I am waiting, senor," returned Torre gravely.
"I have assured myself," went on De la Guerra in the same even tone, "that Pedro and Celestino and the vaquero who was shot here in this room will live. I have let all of your men go, excepting Captain Juarez. Senor Stanway" turning a little in his chair, "will you be so kind as to tell the captain that I should be pleased to see him."

Stanway left the room promptly, returning almost immediately with the rebel captain at his heels. De la Guerra rose, bowed courteously.
"Senor captain," he said, "I am going to wish you a pleasant ride across the border."

He snapped open a drawer of the table, drew out a packet and tossed it upon the table top.

"Will you examine it, senor?" Juarez frowning, a little suspicious, held back for a moment. Then under the amused eyes of Torre, he stepped forward, took up the packet, opened it, stared incredulously, and fell back with a little gasp.

De la Guerra smiled.
"American banknotes," he said easily. "You will find that they amount to five thousand dollars. For your needy countrymen, senor. You see I have never yet refused—pardon me, senor—alms to a beggar." Senor Stanway will you be kind enough to show the captain to the door?"

"Now Senor Torre," resumed the old man when Stanway had returned. "I am to give you your gambler's chance. I have learned that a month ago you killed a man in San Antonio. Now leaning forward a little, "are they looking for you along the border? Have you a good chance of getting across without being shot?"

Torre's cheeks grew a little pale. He returned De la Guerra's gaze, however, and answered steadily.
"I should have, perhaps, one chance in ten thousand."

"Good!" I thought so!

The old Spaniard slipped his hand again into the table drawer and the thing he brought out this time he handed to Torre.
"Here is your chance, senor," he said sternly.

It was a dicebox!

"What do you mean?" snapped Torre.

"I mean this— You shall shake the dice you love so well, and the stake suddenly up-flung head, "My lady of chance is kind to me, senor!"

"You have another throw," De la Guerra reminded him. "The ace cannot be beaten, but it may be tied."

"Now Torre scooped the die up in his box and with no moment of hesitation turned it out upon the table. Again Torre had thrown an ace!"

"Try again," said De la Guerra crisply. "It is growing late."

With a curse Torre again caught up the die again, rattled in the box, again it rolled half across the table.

"A four!" he gasped.

"A four is not bad," De la Guerra reminded him. "It may win. Again, senor!"

A four! If he turned a three next time, or a deuce, he was saved. If the die showed an ace again, a six or a five, he was lost!

Again he took up the die, again cast. This time his hand, holding the dice-box followed close to the rolling cube.

"It is the six," said De la Guerra sternly. "You were about to touch it, senor!"

Torre threw down the box. He had lost—against himself! But his head hung proudly up. "And now," he cried, "where is my lame horse? It is late, as you say."

He bowed and went out into the patio, where Gaucho and a half dozen of the cowboys were waiting. De la Guerra sighed.

"He is a brave man," he said gently. "Ah, well, he has one chance in ten thousand. Well, for a brave man—"

Then they heard the galloping of several horses headed toward the border.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conclusion.
"Teresa!" called Stanway, "Teresa!"

It was night, there was a moon, and between it and the stars was the balcony.

"Senor Billy!"
The voice floated down to him softly, and between the parted vines a very bright face looked down upon him.

"Your papa grande is in the drawing room, Teresa," he said swiftly. "I am going back in there—to tell him something. May I, Teresa?"

"What?" she whispered. "What are you going to tell him, Senor Billy?"

"Can't you guess?" he laughed up at her.

She shook her head. But her soft eyes grew softer, her cheeks rosy and her white hands intertwined and trembled a little.

"Will you go with me, Teresa?" he asked bluntly after the way of Billy Stanway. "I think that I am rather afraid to go all alone. He will be inclined to be very terrible, won't he?"

Teresa laughed, said "Of course!" very prettily and disappeared from the balcony. He met her approximately, half a minute later in the patio.

"Teresa!" he cried, his voice shaking as he could not keep his hands from shaking.

"Don't!" she whispered, slipping away from him. "Papa grande does not like me to come to him with—my hair uncombed, Senor Billy!"

They came into the drawing room together, two very young, handsome, happy, eager people. De la Guerra, his head drooping a little as though he were tired looked up at them.

"Teresa!" he said, rising quickly. "Senor Stanway!"

"You can guess it, can't you?" Stanway blurted out. "We have a notion to send to La Panza for Father Ignacio

Is there some priest you'd prefer, senor?"

"O-oh!" gasped Teresa.

De la Guerra bowed gravely. "Senor Stanway," he said, speaking slowly, his eyes thoughtful. "Teresa has told me how much you have done for us. There was something which she did not tell me which I guessed I owe you—very much. I owe you everything, senor! And, with a quick, strangely sweet smile, "I am a man who pays his debts in full!"

He bowed suddenly caught up Stanway's hand, and placed it upon the girl's.

"I owe you everything. And" with a courtly bow to his granddaughter, "I give you everything!"

"Papa grande!" cried Teresa. "Papa grande!"

"The only thing," smiled the old man, "is—he is an American! Well, since one cannot change the Americans—You will come to me my children in the library."

He walked to the door, paused, turned his smiling face upon them, and added:

"I shall not expect you immediately, Teresa, can you entertain the senor for, let us say an hour? You will pardon me for that long senor? I shall be very busy amending certain remarks in my memoirs" he laughed softly. "Concerning the Americans, senor!"

YEAR RICH IN CENTENARIES

Natal Day Celebrations of Many Famous People Will Take Place During 1919

This year of grace 1919 is rich in centenaries. To begin with it is a hundred years since Queen Victoria appeared on Mother Earth—a centenary concerning which the monthlies will presently be waxing eloquent, London Tit-Bits states.

Another noted centenary of the present year is that of the famous old sea-dog Admiral Rodney, the man in whom for years the French found so persistent an assailant, so doughty an adversary. 'Twas way back in 1810 that this old gentleman first delighted his friends with his presence. The centenary of W. E. Foster the statesman will also be celebrated this year.

Few greater authorities on education than this gifted son-in-law of the great Doctor Arnold of Rugby ever breathed. Among other worthies whose names must also be mentioned in this connection is that of John Campbell Sharp, the Wordsworthian poet and philosopher, Arthur Hugh Clough, the poet, and Charles Kingsley, the gifted author of that immortal thriller, "Westward Ho!"

Scotsmen will presently be doing honor to the memory of another noted individual whose centenary also falls this year—a man worthy of a happier fate—Donald Cargill, the great cooperator who, it will be remembered, for daring to excommunicate the king, was executed at the Old Market Cross, Edinburgh. Neither must we forget George Eliot, the authoress of that unparalleled romance, "Adam Bede."

Safe Work.
"Would you tax generations yet unborn?"

"I think I would," said Senator Spugs. "They certainly can't do any kicking during my tenure of office."
